BIOGRAPHY

---

Jamie Moriarty became interested in the sport of bobsledding after watching the 2006 Olympic Winter Games in Torino, Italy, during which an injury sidelined him from arena football training camp. The same year, he joined the U.S. bobsled team and competed in his first season during 2006-07. He competed and finished sixth at the 2007 Junior World Championships in Altenberg with driver John Napier. He also divided his time as a push-athlete for Olympians Mike Kohn and Steve Holcomb during the first half of the season. Moriarty graduated from Cornell University where he played football as a safety and majored in hotel and restaurant management.
